THEY LOOK TO US FOR HELP SOUTHERN REPUBLICS REGARD US AS THEIR PROTECTOR.

They Expect the United States to Use Its Good Offices in Behnif of Nienragun in That Country's Dispute with England. WASHINGTON, April 22.—The diplomatic representatives from Central and South America, and, in a certain sense, those from the Continent of Europe as well, are watching with no little interest the development of the strained rela-tions between Nicaragua and Great Britain, growing out of the expulsion of Proconsul Hatch and other English subjects from Blusfields last summer. The Nicaraguan Minister to the United States, Dr. Guzman, frankly says that he has no information from his Government as to the course it will pursue, nor has ne any idea what the result will be. Some of the other diplomats representing Latin-American countries are hoping that Nicaragua will de-cline to pay the indemnity until forced to do so at the cannon's mouth. A gentleman who has lived in these countries for many years, and who is entirely familiar with the sentiment of the people, in conversation with a United Press reporter this morning upon this subject said:

"All the Spanish-Americans are curious to know what position the United States will take in this affair. Will she permit British fronclads to shell Greytown? Will she allow British marines to take possession of the Custom House at Corinto and collect the revenues to an amount equalling the indemnity? These are the questions that fall from the lips of all the Central and South Americans when Nicaragua's trouble with Great Britain is discussed. No one seems able to answer them, and I doubt if Secretary Gresham himself has fully decided upon his line of policy.

"What will be the effect in those countries should the United States remain passive and allow Great Britain to collect the money after her own fashion, provided she does not seize any part of Nicaragua's territory ?"

Such indifference would greatly injure the prestige of the United States in all the countries to the south of us. These countries look upon the great republic of the north, as they term the United States, as their big brother. They defer a great deal to the United States. They have modelled their several Federal Constitutions after that of this country, and they make con-cessions to our people, or rather to our Govern-after that of this country, and they make concessions to our people, or rather to our Government, that they flatly refuse to the rest of the world, and even to each other. If the United States remain supine in this matter it will chill the enthusiasm of the Latin-Americans for their big brother of the north, and it will be many years before the tecling of irritation growing out of it will be removed."

"But what do they expect the United States to do? This country cannot engage in war with England because Nicaragua refuses to pay a claim which Great Britain insists is a just one. Are not the Central and South Americans too hasty in believing that this country can constantly interject itself into all their differences with other nations?"

"The Latin-American countries," was the reply, "do not desire to drag the United States into a war with Great Britain or any other country, unnecessarily. It would not be expected in the present case. What they do expected in the present case. What they do expected in the great Britain or and they will be bitterly disappointed if their expectation is not realized, is that the United States will use their good offices to have the difficulty amicably settled. The United States can do a great deal either in the direction of reducing the indemnity or in making less harsh the method of collecting it, so that Nicaragua's pride may not be too greatly humbled. Secretary Gresham knows precisely what the South Americans would like, and they believe that he will, without being presumptuous, so interest himself in the affair as not to antagonize Great Britain, and yet satisfy our Latin-American neighbors that he is not indifferent to their complications with other and greater nations."

NICARAGUA CANAL COMMISSION.

It Will Organize To-day and Start for the sthings with the Least Possible Delay.

WASHINGTON, April 22.-The Board of Engineers selected by President Cleveland, in accordance with the act of Congress, to visit Nicaragua and investigate the feasibility, permanence, and expense of constructing the inter-oceanic ship canal, will probably organize tomorrow, Major William Ludlow, the army member, having arrived in New York to-day from London, where he has recently been military attaché to the American Embassy. He reported his arrival by telegraph to Adjt.-Gen Ruggles, and announced that he would report at the War Department to-morrow morning. Commander Mordecai T. Endicott, the naval member, has been stationed in Washington in charge of the public works of the navy for several years. The civilian member, Alfred Noble of Chicago, reached Washington to-day, and is prepared to begin his duties at once. Me Noble was recommended for the place by the American Society of Civil Engineers, He has recently had experience in the Chi-cago drainage canal and other improve-ments. The members of the Board will re-ceive their commissions to-morrow. It is also expected that they will receive their instructions, which will be general in character, their exact movements being left in great measure to their own discretion. The cruiser Montgomery is still at Mobile, where, according to Secretary Herbert's arrangement, the Board will join her for transportation to Greytown, and the vessel will remain there while the investigation is in progress. secretary Herbert's arrangement, the Board will join her for transportation to Greytown, and the vessel will remain there while the investigation is in progress.

As the Board is compelled to report its findings and conclusions to the President not later than Nov. I, it is expected that they will leave for the isthmus with the least possible delay, probably hist going to New York for a day or two to examine the plans and contracts of the canal company at its offices there.

ADMIRAL MEADE'S FLEET

The New York and Columbia to Hurry

North to Prepare for the Trip to Kiel, WASHINGTON, April 22. Secretary Herbert Minneapolis to Kingston, to take on 500 tons of when the fleet left for San Domingo, and which could not be sent to Colon on account of the exorbitant freight rates. The New York, Columbla, Atlanta, Raleigh, and Cincinnati will sail directly from Colon for Key West, where nearly 4.000 tons of West Virginia coal have been sent for their use. Any portion of this that the New York, Columbia, and Cincinnati do not need will be landed at the Key West payal station for future use. The New York and Columbia will spend but a few days at Key West, and will will be landed at the Key West naval station for future use. The New York and Columbia will spend but a few days at Key West, and will then hurry to the New York Navy Yard to prepare for their cruise to the Kiel celebration, which occurs on June 19. Capit. Evans of the New York expects to get away from New York expects to get away from New York expects to get away from New York for Europe about June 1, when Admiral Meade's flag will be transferred to the Minneapolis. Secretary Herbert says one of the Newsels will return to Colon from Rey West, but all the others will come North. The Montgomery will be used to convey the members of the Nicaraguan Canal Commission to Greytown.

The position in deet formation that will be accorded the American vessels at Kiel is just now being considered. The plan followed by foreign countries upon occusions of this kind is according to the date of commission of commanding officers. This rule was adhered to at the navalreties, although Admiral Hopkins, who commanded the British squadron, and outranked Admiral Gherardi one grade, waived the right in order to permit the American ships to take precedence. Germany's squadron will be in charge of the senior officer of her navy, and will be the largest aggregation of her war ships she has mobilized for years. Great Britain will almost certainly follow her usual custom of taking care to see that her vessels are assigned to the place of honor, and is expected to send some high-ranking Vice-Admirals to command them. There will, no doubt, be a contest between Russia and France for the next place, but their positions will all depend upon which country can send an Admiral whose commission antedates that of the other. Italy will come in for next honors, with the smaller countries trailing. It is not expected that the United States ships will secure better than sixth or seventh place, and may be outranked by all the Continental powers. The celebration will be the first in which this Government has participated with a large fleet since the war.

to show Europeans these vessels delights naval officers, who for years have been ashamed of the representatives of the navy flying the Stars and Stripes abroad. Not since Admiral Walker took the first white squadron to Europe, five years ago, have there been as many United States naval ships in Europe as will be at the Kiel celebration.

THE CUBAN REVOLT.

What a Correspondent Naw During a Trip in the Interior- Is Maceo a Suicide!

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, April 22.-The special correspondent of the United Press returned here to-day from an extended trip into the interior He found the insurgents divided into small bands. They are mostly negroes. Their arms are very poor and their leaders are utterly incapable. The encounters between the Govern ment troops and the rebels have not thus far been serious.

The correspondent visited many places in the province of Puerto Principe and found every-thing quiet. No disturbance occurred anywhere in the province during his visit. He then proceeded to Gibara, where he found everything quiet and business going on as usual. From (il-bara he went to Baracoa, where he learned that the alarm which followed the landing of Maceo had quickly subsided. The town of Santiago is gaid quickly sustaid. The town of Santiago is guarded at present by 1,000 troops, and four Spanish war ships are lying in the harbor. Besides these there are 4,000 troops near the town. The total number of the insurgent forces does not exceed 3,000 men, all of whom are confined in the interior of the province.

The report that Gen. Crombet has been killed is confirmed. Four of his command have been made prisoners.

It is reported that Gen, Maceo, the insurgent leader, committed suicide because of chagrin at the failure of his expedition. A body has been found which, while it has not been positively identified, is believed to be his.

At the urgent request of United States Consul Hyatt the authorities here have hastened the inquiry into the cases of August Belton and Gustave Hichileu, American sailors, who were imprisoned weeks ago on the suspicion of aiding the insurgents. They have found both men innocent and have decided to release them to-morrow.

GOV. MORTON INEXORABLE.

City Magistrates Bill Will Pass Unamended If He Can Get Senators Enough,

The Republican situation at this end of the line is in a tangle. Gov. Morton's friends hereabouts professed to believe yesterday that in the end he would induce the Republican Senators who are recalcitrant on the City Magistrates bill to reconsider their determination to delay and kill it. Senator Cantor, before he returned to Albany, said that new and disturbing fea-tures followed immediately on Gov. Merton's dinner to the Republican Senators last week. It is true, the Senator said. that several Republican Senators had engagements and did not go to the dinner, but it is also true that the Governor is persistent in his suggestions that the Magistrates bill shall pass.

tiov. Morton has talked unreservedly in this strain with Mr. Platt. Dr. Depew, and Warner Miller, and President Edward Lauterbach of the Republican County Committee has had a dozen talks with the Governor on the subject. The contention of the Piatt-Lauterbach people is that Mayor Strong should not have the appointing of the new magistrates. "The minority Republicans in the county," said a Republican who has talked with Goy. Morton on the bill, "have the Puolic Works Department, the Street Cleaning Department, the Dock Department, and they are shortly to have the Police Department, and they are shortly to have the Police Department, we do not think it is fair for the Governor to misst on the Magistrates bill, which will load up fifteen courts with more minority Republicans. The patronage of the magistrates is something to be considered. If the bill can be amended so that the majority Republicans can be recognized, all well and good, but after our treatment by Mayor Strong it is not fair for the Governor to take the attitude he does."

The Justices maintain that the bill is unconstitutional on the ground that the Mayor cannot remove a judicial officer. That matter, though, was all gone over at Albany. The Governor dwells constantly on the bill and Insists that it shall pass the Senate. He does not favor taking the power of appointment from Mayor Strong. tention of the Platt-Lauterbach people is that President La Grange said that Seery's defence will be passed on at the meeting of the floard to-day.

Police Commissioner - Henry Campbell Said to Be Ex-Sherif O'Brien's Choice. Mayor Strong received two letters yesterday rom United States Civil Service Commissioner Theodore Roosevelt. Both referred to the place of Police Commissioner which the Mayor has offered to Mr. Roosevelt, but Col. Strong said that neither of them was an acceptance of the offer of appointment. Nevertheless it may be said that Mayor Strong has the same information that THE SUN published on Sunday last, namely, that Mr. Roosevelt has finally decided to accept the place. If he did not get the information in writing from Mr. Roosevelt, it is because Mr. Roosevelt knew that he had it by word of mouth through the medium of a friend. ready arranging to come to New York city. He has quite an establishment there, which he will have to dispose of before he can come on to help in the work of reforming the Police De-

One of the considerations of Mr. Roosevelt's acceptance of a place on the Police Board is said to have been that his associates shall be gentlemen of standing and good character. He also wanted to know that he would not be hampered in his efforts to reform the force on any lines which he may deem advisable.

As to Mr. Roosevelt's colleagues, Col. S. Van Rensselaer Cruger has been holding an offer of the place under advisement for some time, but it is believed that he has decided to decline it. The Mayor has not yet selected the other Commissioners. He has had the resignation of James J. Martin, the Tammany Hall member of the Board, ever since Jan. 1. It was rumored at the Fifth Avenue Hotel last night that it has been finally arranged, with the consent of ex-Sheriff O'Brien, that Henry Campbell, the grocer, shall be his representative on the Police Board to succeed Commissioner Martin. Mr. Campbell lives in the old Seventh ward, and his place of business is in Vesey street. Two years ago he was a member of the P. Divver Association.

WASHINGTON, April 22.-To THE SUN correspondent Civil Service Commissioner Roosevelt said this evening that he could not make any statement whatever on the subject. All information, he said, must come from Mayor Strong. Col. Cruger has been in Washington two or about the New York city appointments, and will do so again before leaving town. It is very well known in Washington that Mayor Strong sevration offered Mr. Roosevelt, practically, his choice of municipal offices, but each time the reply was that his work as a member of the Civil Service Commission was too congenial and satisfactory to him to be abandoned for an en-trance into New York politics. At the time these refusals were made, however, the office of Police Commissioner was not one of those under Police Commissioner was not one of those under consideration.

Mr. Roosevelt is known to be ambitious in a political way, and is convinced that the reform movement in New York city and State politics presents an opportunity for work that will not be lost sight of by the independent voters of New York State and the Republicans of the country. Mr. Roosevelt's friends think, therefore, that if Mayor Strong emphasizes his desire to have him accept the Police Commissionership he will do so.

President Cleveland will be sorry to lose the services of Mr. Roosevelt, and so will all believers in civil service reform, for in addition to his enthusiasm on the subject, Mr. Roosevelt shonesty and fearlessness have been generally recognized. If Mr. Roosevelt should leave Washington he would be greatly missed also in literary and social circles, where he has always had a high place.

COM. MURRAY AND PARKHURST. The Excise Commissioner and the Reformer Admire Each Other.

President Murray of the Excise Board was the first speaker. He said that he was ill, and that his family and his doctor had advised him to stay at home, but his desire to hear Dr. Parkhurst, whom he had never heard, was too great.

"If the salcons of his repute in this city are not closed in a year," he said, "it will be the fault of the Commissioners and not of the laws. The laws are good enough, We have lately closed some of these disreputable salcons and hope to close more. We hope the Parkhurst society will assist us, and I for one will do my utmost to stamp out the class of salcons like the one we closed last week."

The Commissioner said that he was anxious to yield his place on the platform to Dr. Parkhurst, and when the latter was introduced there was a great deal of applause.

"It seems almost incredible, does it not," said the Doctor, "that I should express myself in sympathy with any of the city departments, but it is a honeful sign to hear the head of one of the departments address you as Mr. Murray has done. I also understand that a Police Commissionership is to be given or offered to Theodore Roosevelt. WHAT TO DO ON DISCOVERING CRIMINAL MALPRACTICE.

Dr. Draper Recommends Bleeding in Some Cases of Apoptexy-Should an Optician Be Allowed to Advertise in the "Medi-cal Register" Healing by Eyeglassest

The County Medical Society had a lively discussion last night on the subject of advertisements in the 1895 edition, soon to be published, of the Medical Register, the annual publication of the society. Dr. Van Fleet had taken exception at a previous meeting to the advertisemen of a certain optician, which, he said, stated that headache, nervousness, neuralgia, sore eyes, and other things resulted from a disorder which the optician by a perfected system could locate at once, and that the various ailments could be helped by the use of proper glasses, . The matter was referred to the counsel of the society, who gave it as his opinion that the bylaws did not exclude the advertisements of makers of surgical and optical instruments. Dr. Van Ficet made a motion last night that the editor of the Register be instructed to annul any contract he may have entered into with this advertiser, "I have been told of a case of a man," said the Doctor, "a druggist who died of Bright's dis-ease. He told me that he had seen this advertisement in our journal, and thinking it had our endorsement had his eyes treated for this trouble. I hold that the advertisement was the means of hastening his death at least. It is not right that we physicians who are restricted by law as to our practice should countenance and aid others not restricted by law in encroaching upon our practice, to the detriment of ourselves and our patients. A man who says he can do all the things this man says he can can do more than any physician, and he is a quack. The medical journals are overrun with these meretricious advertisements. I am sorry to say, but I want our own to be free from them."

"The Doctor understands," said Dr. S. S. Powell, "that a written contract has been made, and to break it will mean a lawsuit." Dr. Lewis, the editor of the Register, said with

Office-Mr. Peel a Viscount. LONDON, April 22.-The House of Commons. which stood adjourned over the Easter recess resumed its sittings to-day. Speaker-elect Gully took the chair, but almost immediately afterward the Usher of the Black Rod appeared in the House and summoned him before the House of Lords. The Speaker, accompanied by the Sergeant-at-Arms and a majority of the members of the House, proceeded to the bar of the House of Lords. Lord Herschell, Lord High Chancellor, and Lords Kimberley, Spencer, Carrington, and Kensington, constituting a royal commission, occupied seats in front of the throne, which was uncovered. Lord Herschell, bowing to the new Speaker, said: "Her Majesty has most fully approved and confirmed your appointment."

Speaker Gully replied: "I submit myself to her Majesty's most gracious will and pleasure." Then followed an exchange of salutations, the Speaker and his party bowing to the royal com-mission and the assembled lords, who returned the salute. The Speaker and the members of the House then withdrew. Upon his return to the House the Speaker retired to his private rooms, where he donned his robe of office and full-bottomed wig. Reappearing in the House, Mr. Gully took the Speaker's chair, and in a

Sir William Harcourt announced that the Queen had approved the petition of the House that her Majesty confer a mark of royal favor upon ex-Speaker Peci, and gave notice of his intention to introduce a motion on the subject.

Speaker Gully made an excellent impression. He has a fine bearing, a stately manner, and a good voice. He has, however, a good deal to learn in regard to his new position, as was shown by his tripping up at the very outset. When Home Secretary Asquith moved the second reading of the Factory bill in the usual dumb show way, by merely rising and lifting his hat, the Speaker omitted to put the question: "Shail the bill be read;" until he was prompted by the Clerk.

"I myself," he added, "left my Berlin college with some republican ideas and much sympathy with Harmodius and Aristogelton. In those days I found it difficult to understand why so many persons should obey one who was not their ideal ruler. Even then, however, I was a ferman Nationalist, and made a bet that within twenty years dermany would be united. Later, as a diplomatist seeking means to secure ferman unity, I saw clearly the necessity of a ruling head. That head was Prussa, for I perceived that the triumph of our cause was mappossible without the aid of the Prussian army."
